A real poverty reduction plan for Ontario requires adequate income supports for everyone.

I support the campaign calling on the government to create a $100 monthly Healthy Food Supplement for all adults on social assistance as a first step toward providing adequate incomes.

Despite the evidence that the cost of shelter and nutritious food make it virtually impossible for people on social assistance to lead healthy lives, there is no formula for setting benefit rates in Ontario.

As a result, people on social assistance are being forced to choose between paying rent and buying food, are sending their children to school without breakfast or lunch, and are relying on food banks for survival.

A $100.00 a month Health Food Supplement will make a difference.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
